INTERNSHIP TIPS

Keep track of your projects

Start a list of all of the projects you have worked on so that you can discuss your progress with your supervisor. This will help you remember everything you've worked on to update your resume, add to a portfolio, or talk about in a future interview.

Be resourceful

It's critical that your colleagues view you as someone who is resourceful and independent enough to bring something new to the table instead of just stopping every time there is a bump in the road.
